Description:

On August 29, 2005, Hurricane Katrina crashed a forty-foot tidal wave over the Marine Life Oceanarium in Gulfport, Mississippi. The dolphin house was demolished, and its inhabitants swept from their tank into the Gulf of Mexico. After growing up in captivity, how could the eight bottlenose dolphins feed and protect themselves in the wild? And if they could survive, would their trainers ever see them again? This fascinating picture book—enriched with both beautiful color-wash illustrations and photographs taken by the trainers themselves—tells this dramatic, happy-ending story.

I bought this for my daughter, i thought she would enjoy a true tail about dolphins being the dolphin fan she is. I was a little disappointed that more information wasnt given about the dolphins from the time they were located to the time they were returned to an aquarium. It would have also been interesting to know how they thought the dolphins made it into the ocean. It was a very basic story We did enjoy the real pictures at the back of the book.
